Police Chief Lieb Treds the Board for Charity

Woodstock Police Chief John Lieb recently did something totally out of character – literally he acted in a play to benefit the McHenry County Historical Society. He played the School Custodian in a production of Elementary Follies to raise money to restore the historic 1867 Pringle School in Marengo. At last count, the successful theatrical event raised $3,000!

Chief Lieb was utterly amazed at how much fun he had throughout the whole process from rehearsals to performing (twice!) for the public. As he put it, “The other cast members and I truly enjoyed stepping out of our “comfort zones” and onto the stage for a worthy cause.”

Congratulations, Chief Lieb, on a job well done!

WPD Initiatives – “Click It or Ticket” and “DUI Enforcement Patrols”:

As part of the IDOT grant, WPD Officers made one driving under the influence arrest during the recent Labor Day crackdown. In addition, 35 seat belt citations were written – nine of which occurred during nighttime hours. Other citations and arrests include 24 citations for operation of a vehicle while using an electronic communications device, eight citations for operation of an uninsured motor vehicle, and a driving while license is suspended arrest. The overall goal of the “Click It or Ticket” and “DUI Enforcement Patrols” is to increase the safety for the traveling public.

City's "AA" rating from S&P confirmed

As part of the refinancing of the Series 2008 Bonds, which the City Council had previously approved, it was necessary for the City to obtain a bond rating from S&P. On August 25th a phone conference was held with S&P to present an overview of the City's financials and economic development and allow S&P to ask any questions. On September 6th the City was notified that S&P was confirming the "AA" rating the City had been upgraded to on May 20, 2014. They also indicated that the long term outlook for this rating was "stable", which indicated that this rating is unlikely to change in the next two years.

Bond Refunding Completed

The refunding transaction was completed this morning with good demand for the purchase of the City's new debt. Overall, savings were 6.9% of the net present value or $131,800 in debt service savings for the Water & Sewer Fund.

Special Census Update

The Federal Census Bureau started counting City of Woodstock residents on September 9th. At this point they have not indicated any issues or difficulties in participation by residents. Barring any unforeseen circumstances, they are currently anticipating being done with the count on September 30th.

BUILDING & ZONING

Courthouse Window Replacement

Sjostrom and Sons started work on the window replacement project in the Old Courthouse. Their first order of business was to remove several window sash from rear windows, which will be used to replace deteriorating sash on three windows on the front of the building. Architect Gary Anderson determined that this was a critical first step in the project because the existing sash were in danger of falling out.

Spirit Halloween

The Spirit Halloween store will be opening on Friday, September 16th. They are occupying the former Office Depot Space at 414 S. Eastwood Drive.

The Recreation Center has been home to the Cooperative Education Program, which is a division of SEDOM (the Special Education District of McHenry County) since 2004. Recently, due to the reorganization of SEDOM, the students have been placed in locations closer to their homes.

The School of Expressive Arts & Learning, now located at 1200 Claussen Dr. (the previous SEDOM School location) approached the Recreation Center about working with a cooperative program with their students.

S.E.A.L. is an organization approved by the Illinois State Board of Education which provides year-round private therapeutic day school services. This organization serves boys, girls and young adults with special needs, ages 5 to 22, placed by local school districts. They serve the needs of students with emotional disability, specific learning disability, intellectual language disability, developmental delay and multiple disabilities. More information about S.E.A.L. can be found at www.seal-il.com.

The Recreation Department would like to welcome Nathaniel Forero and Emily Lahman to our staff. The Recreation Center will serve as a training site for the students as they learn marketable skills to take out into the workforce.

Emily and Nathaniel will be sharing the morning laundry and cleaning duties. Their job coach will be onsite to assist them with their duties until they have mastered the morning list of projects. At that time the coach will watch from the sidelines to be sure the projects are being completed correctly. The ultimate goal is for the students to master their skills and bring their experience to another employer. At that time the Recreation Center will receive new students to work with. We look forward to a long and successful cooperative program with S.E.A.L. and their students.

Rec Center Projects Completed

Projects for the annual summer maintenance shutdown have been completed. The carpet in the multi-purpose room was shampooed and the cardio room was painted. A new epoxy floor was installed in the locker rooms; the aerobics and racquetball courts were sanded and refinished; pool shell was acid washed and the lines were painted; and the whirlpool tile was grouted. We had three different outside contractors included in this year's projects and all projects were completed on time and within budget.

Pioneer Center Visits the Rec Center

The Woodstock Recreation Center welcomes the Pioneer Center as they walk around the gym each Wednesday afternoon. Pioneer Center and Rec Center employees work in collaboration to provide the group a safe, climate-controlled environment. Many of these faces are also seen on Tuesdays at Coffee at the Café.

Fall Rec Programs Underway

The Rec Department's fall programming session gets underway this week with Tap Lessons, Tumbling, Horseback Riding, Gymnastics, and Mighty Twisters. Next week, Youth and Adult Golf, Tae Kwon Do, Basketball Clinic, Poms, and Kid Rock will be offered.

The entire session of programming is available at www.woodstockrecreationdepartment.com.

Woodstock Fine Arts Creative Living Series
 Rick Guidotti has spent the past two decades reframing our perceptions of beauty. Formerly a fashion photographer working with supermodels, he now travels the world to capture images of people living with differences such as albinism and autism, using his camera to celebrate and embrace the beauty in those with genetic, physical, behavioral and intellectual differences. Guidotti presents On Beauty—this award-winning documentary directed by Joanna Rudnick and Chicago’s Kartemquin Films, ventures outside conventional standards to expose the unexpected beauty that radiates through his lens—and talks about the empowering effects of a little glamour, allowing people the freedom to feel “I am amazing.”

PROJECT UPDATES

US Route 14 Multi-Use Path

Berger Excavating continues its work on the City's 1,400-foot multi-use path along US Route 14. IDOT's US Route 14 widening project left a gap in the path between Lake Avenue and West Lake Shore Drive. The City partnered with the State of Illinois, McHenry County Conservation District, and McHenry County, in order to design and fund the project. This week, Berger completed the installation of the final asphalt surface and spreading of topsoil. Next week, the contractor will focus on final grading, striping, and the installation of erosion matting and grass seed. The path is expected to be finished and ready for use by the end of September.

2016 Street Maintenance & Resurfacing Program

While Street Crack Sealing and Street Pavement Marking programs near their completion, this week marked the beginning of the Street Resurfacing Program. In order to create a "border" for pavement work, the contractor began saw cutting curbs and sidewalks on Monday, September 12th. During the following two weeks, Geske & Sons, Inc. will be removing and disposing of the existing bituminous pavement surface and underlying stone base. This will be followed by the installation of new base material, asphalt binder, and surface course. All resurfacing is expected to be completed by the end of October.

Streets originally scheduled for maintenance or resurfacing as part of the 2016 Street Maintenance & Resurfacing Program are as follows:

- Becking Avenue (from Conway Street to Dane Street)
- Country Club Road (1,900' west and 2,500' east of Club Road)
- Madison Street (from South Street to Fremont Street)
- West Jackson Street (from Tryon Street to Throop Street)

*Because of favorable bid prices, the City will complete some additional work at the following locations: Applewood Lane, Boulder Lane, Beach Avenue, Aspen Drive, Oak Street, Blakely Street, Tanager Drive, Willow Avenue, and Cobblestone Way & Pond Point (intersection only).

PROJECT UPDATES

Park in the Square Stone Veneer Project

Jimmy'Z Masonry continues its stone façade work on the south half of the Park in the Square retaining wall on Van Buren St. Interior parking spaces along the wall will be blocked off where the contractor is working. This is necessary to not only accommodate the workers, but also to protect the work zone. Affected parking spaces will re-open at the conclusion of each work day. This improvement will also include the installation of parking curbs to prevent vehicles from making contact with the new cobblestone face.

Ryders Woods Park Sign

Curb appeal is extremely important in the City of Woodstock. Maintaining public spaces like the City's twenty-four distinct park properties provides residents and visitors a positive impression of the City. An integral part of promoting the City's recreation areas includes maintaining each individual park entrance sign. The signs are landmarks for residents and user groups seeking a specific site for a family outing, league tournament, or something as simple as a new place to walk the dog. A park sign is often the first thing residents and user groups see. That initial impression helps promote the entire park system and speaks to the beauty of historic Woodstock. As part of their ongoing efforts to provide quality recreation areas, members of Woodstock's parks maintenance staff recently replaced the sign at Ryders Woods Park, at the new entrance located at Dick Tracy Way and Lawndale Avenue. The new sign resembles those at other park sites and will serve the community for many years. The McHenry County Land Conservancy has completed a lengthy list of work to the path and grounds at Ryders Woods Park. The City encourages those that enjoy nature's beauty to visit the site.

Wastewater Treatment Employees Attend Conference in Carpentersville

Wastewater Treatment Plant employees attended the 10th Annual FVOA (Fox Valley Operators' Association) Wastewater Conference hosted by the Village of Carpentersville on Thursday, August 18th. The conference consisted of several different technical sessions including: impact of flushable wipes on collection systems, fighting the corrosive environment within facilities, and use of paracetic acid as a disinfectant in the wastewater treatment process. These conferences are one way operators stay current with IEPA and industry standards. They also provide an opportunity for discussion and troubleshooting of wastewater treatment issues with other wastewater treatment operators in the area.

What's Blooming in the Bump Outs?

The Department of Public Works Parks Division has planted thousands of native plants this growing season in around Woodstock's downtown. The plants have included interesting flowers, foliage and shrubbery. Within three years time, these native plants will fully fill each bump out providing varying heights, shapes and textures to the landscape throughout the seasons.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT REPORTS RABID BAT BAT FOUND IN MARENGO

WOODSTOCK IL – A rabid bat was found outside a Marengo home on September 13. Test results for the bat, reported to McHenry County Department of Health (MCDH) on Thursday, September 15, confirmed that the bat was positive for rabies. No human exposure was reported, although potential exposure to a puppy who was found playing with the bat is being taken into consideration. Keeping pets (even those who stay indoors) up to date with vaccinations will not only keep them from getting rabies, but also provide a barrier of protection for people if a rabid animal bites a pet.

If a bat is found, whether it is inside or outside your home, do not touch it directly. The home owner in this instance handled the bat with a shovel and plastic bag, ensuring no direct contact. If a bat is found in the home, contain the bat in a room by closing the door. If you find a bat outside the home and think there has been exposure to a person or pet, or if the bat is injured, place an upside down bucket over the bat if it is possible. In both cases, immediately call Animal Control (815-459-6222). In order to test bats for rabies, it is important the bat be in good condition (i.e. head is intact) – either alive or recently deceased. Only in cases of confirmed exposure are bats submitted for testing. Specimens in good condition that test negative for rabies eliminates the need for rabies treatment following human exposure. Statewide, 53 rabid bats have been reported positive for rabies so far in 2016, with approximately 46 of those found in northeastern Illinois.

Rabies is a fatal disease caused by a virus that attacks the central nervous system, only confirmed by laboratory testing. The best way to avoid rabies is to avoid exposure. A bat that is active by day, found in a place where bats are not usually seen (such as in your home or on the lawn) or is unable to fly, is potentially rabid. People should take a “hands off” approach to all wild animals to reduce their risk of exposure. Children should also be educated to avoid handling wild animals. Bats are a protected species and part of the natural habitat.

If you have questions about exposure, call MCDH’s Communicable Disease Program at 815-334-4500. To learn more about rabies prevention, visit the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) at <http://www.cdc.gov/rabies/>.
